Abraham Lincoln is in the Wrestling Hall of Fame. Defeated only once in approximately 300 matches, Lincoln reportedly talked a little smack in the ring. According to Carl Sandburg's biography of Lincoln, Honest Abe once challenged an entire crowd of onlookers after dispatching an opponent: "I'm the big buck of this lick. If any of you want to try it, come on and whet your horns."
There were no takers.

The only Revolutionary War skirmish in the state occurred in 1783. The Battle of Arkansas Post (also known as the Colbert Raid or Colbert Incident) was fought in April of 1783. It was a part of a series of small battles fought between Spanish and British forces in the Lower Mississippi region.

Construction of the Arkansas State Capitol took 16 years, from 1899 to 1915. It was built on the site of the state penitentiary, prisoners helped construct the building. The exterior of the Capitol is made of limestone quarried in Batesville, Arkansas. It was initially stipulated the cost not exceed $1 million, total construction cost was $2.2 million (or $320 million in 2014 dollars). The front entrance doors are made of bronze and were purchased from Tiffany & Company in New York for $10,000. The cupola/dome is covered in 24 karat gold leaf.

Flamin' Hot Cheetos were developed by a janitor at Frito-Lay, Richard Montanez, who got the idea after putting chili powder on some reject Cheetos and then pitched it to the CEO. He's now a successful executive and motivational speaker, and a movie is in the works about his life.

Since the 1830s the area now known as Hot Springs National Park has bathed notables as diverse as Franklin D. Roosevelt, Babe Ruth, and Al Capone. The park is entirely surrounded by the city of Hot Springs, the boyhood home of President Bill Clinton.

A child enters your home and for the next 20 or so years makes
so much noise you
can hardly stand it.
Then the child departs,
leaving the house so silent you think you are going mad.
